

IN MEMORIAM

It is our sad duty to inform you, our readers, of the recent, untimely death of our lead editor, Kurt H. Decker, Esq.

This issue of the Journal of Individual Employment Rights is therefore dedicated to Kurt H. Decker as a tribute to his insight, intelligence, and talent. We dedicate it in grateful recognition of his many contributions to the legal profession, to the education of fledgling attorneys, and to the many practicing attorneys who were aided in performing their professional duties by Dr. Decker's theories and practical commentaries.

Assuming Editorship of the Journal beginning with the next issue, Volume 9, Number 1 will be Dr. Charles J. Coleman. Dr. Coleman is presently a Professor of Management in the School of Business at Rutgers University.

All of us at Baywood Publishing Company send heartfelt condolences to the Decker family and wish them peace. We hope they will find comfort in their warm memories of a fine man. Kurt Decker, we are proud to have known you. We will miss you.
