

Director of Student and House Staff Health Services
Oregon Health Sciences University

Oregon Health Sciences University is seeking a high-energy director with strong management and organizational skills to lead a motivated health team dedicated to providing quality medical care and preventive health education to a diverse campus of 1,550 students. This is a 12-month, full-time faculty appointment. The director of the Student Health Services is under the direction and supervision of the Assistant Vice President for Student Affairs and is responsible for the professional, managerial and fiscal components of the health service, including the supervision of 12 positions. The director also provides direct patient care to students, house staff, and their spouses/children and may be required to participate in evening, weekend and holiday coverage.

Qualifications include a medical degree (M.D.) with Board certification, including experience providing health care to young adults, and eligibility for an Oregon medical license. Demonstrated experience in management and supervision of personnel also is required. Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Oregon Health Sciences University includes the schools of dentistry, medicine and nursing; University Hospital; Doernbecher Children's Hospital; dozens of primary care and specialty clinics; three research institutes; and several outreach and public service units. OHSU sits atop Marquam Hill on a 116-acre campus overlooking Portland, Oregon. The institution is an independent public corporation that provides a wide array of educational, patient care, research and outreach services. Its programs and services extend across the state's entire 96,000 square miles and reach into neighboring states. OHSU serves more than 2,700 medical, nursing, dental and allied health students and trainees throughout the state, and employs 8,300 faculty and support staff. OHSU has an annual budget in excess of $520 million and receives research grants and contracts totaling more than $100 million annually.

To apply for this position, send a resume and cover letter explaining your qualifications to Nora Cromley, Associate Dean and Committee Chair, L-218, Oregon Health Sciences University, 3181 S.W. Sam Jackson Park Road, Portland, Oregon, 97201-3098. Review begins immediately and continues until the position is filled. You may email student@ohsu.edu with questions.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING 598-604
<http://www.ama-assn.org>

G D SEARLE & CO
Daypro 515-516

HOECHST MARION ROUSSEL INC
Cardizem CD COVER 3-COVER 4

W B SAUNDERS CO
Book/Pub/Catalog 529

While every precaution is taken to ensure accuracy, we cannot guarantee against the possibility of an occasional change or omission in the preparation of this index.

APRIL 2-5, 1998 • SAN FRANCISCO, CA
PREVENTION 98
TRANSLATING SCIENCE INTO ACTION

April 2 - 5, 1998 • San Francisco, CA

PREVENTION 98: Translating Science Into Action will provide a major forum for physicians and other health professionals with special expertise or interest in disease prevention and health promotion.

The program will emphasize skill-building and will feature sessions on important topics such as:

- Practice guidelines development
- Undergraduate and graduate medical education
- Medical management
- Quality assurance
- Community preventive services

AMA cat. 1 credit will be awarded. For information, contact PREVENTION 98 at (202) 466-2569, prevention@acpm.org or write 1660 L Street, NW, Suite 206, Washington DC 20036.

www.prevention-meeting.org/prevention

JAMA
340,000 Weekly US Recipients
Our Readers are your Best Candidates
Downloaded from www.archfamfmed.com at STANFORD Univ Med Center, on November 5, 2009